RADIANCE THROUGH RESILIENCE: SKINCARE IN ONCOLOGY

Cancer treatments can cause changes to the skin, hair, eyebrows, and eyelashes. In this educational demonstration, TC will share general skincare tips for sensitive, treatment-affected skin, and discuss potential skin-irritating ingredient. TC will also demonstrate a simple at-home skincare routine, including brow and lash techniques and safe makeup practices. This workshop provides general educational information and is not a substitute for medical advice. Participants should consult their oncology or healthcare team before using new products on treatment-affected or irritated skin.
